

Ph.D. Dissertation of the Year Award

IN 2016, the Chemistry Department established the annual Best Ph.D. Dissertation of the Year Award to recognize the authors of the best Ph.D. dissertations in chemistry and medicinal chemistry from the previous calendar year. The finalists are invited to return to make a public presentation of their dissertations. The audience includes a panel of judges from outside of UB to evaluate the presentations in addition to evaluating the written material to rank the presentations. The winner receives a monetary award and plaque; other finalists receive a lesser monetary award and a certificate.

Ph.D. Dissertation of the Year Recipients

2016 -

Peter Marley (Advisor: Prof. Sarbajit Banerjee)

Bogdana Goryanova (Advisor: Prof. John Richard)